3. CARBON MONOXIDE DETECTOR NOTICE

3.1 KOS MANAGEMENT

<<Unit Address>>

State Law requires that an owner of a residential property install a carbon monoxide detector in apartment buildings that have a fuel-burning appliance no later than April 1, 2010. State law also requires Kos Management to reasonably maintain every carbon monoxide detector in the residential property in the manner specified in the instructions for the detector.

A resident must provide the owner with written notice if a detector is not functional or has been removed by a person other than the resident. Kos Management must repair or replace the detector within five (5) days after receipt of written notice by the resident.

Kos Management is not liable for damages resulting from any of the following:

1. a false alarm from a detector that was reasonably maintained.
2. the failure of a detector to operate properly if that failure was the result of tampering, removal or destruction of the detector by a person other than the owner, or

8. REQUIRED INSURANCE ADDENDUM

8.1 KOS MANAGEMENT

<<Unit Address>>

This Addendum is attached to and becomes a part of the Residential Lease Agreement. For the duration of the Lease Agreement, Lessee is required to maintain and provide the following minimum required insurance coverage:

- $100,000 Limit of Liability for Lessee's legal liability for damage to the landlord's property for no less than the following causes of loss: fire, smoke, explosion, backup or overflow of sewer, drain or sump, and water damage ("Required Insurance").

Lessee is required to furnish Lessor with evidence of Required Insurance prior to occupancy of leased premises and at the time of each lease renewal period. If at any time Lessee does not have Required Insurance, Lessee is in breach of the Lease Agreement and Lessor shall have, in addition to any other rights under the Lease Agreement, the right but not the obligation to purchase Required Insurance coverage and seek reimbursement from the Lessee for all costs and expenses associated with such purchase.

Lessee may obtain Required Insurance from an insurance agent or insurance company of Lessee's choice. If Lessee furnishes evidence of such insurance and maintains the insurance for the duration of the Lease Agreement, then nothing more is required. If Lessee does not maintain Required Insurance, the insurance requirement of this Lease Agreement may be satisfied by Lessor, who may schedule the Lessee's unit for coverage under the Landlord's Required Resident Liability insurance policy ("LRR"). The coverage provided under the LRR will provide the Required Insurance coverage listed above. An amount equal to the total cost to the Lessor for the LRR coverage shall be charged to Lessee by the Lessor. Some important points of this coverage, which Lessee should understand are:

1. LRR is designed to fulfill the insurance requirement of the Lease Agreement. Lessor is the Insured under the LRR. Lessee is not the insured under the LRR policy.
2. LRR coverage is not personal liability insurance or renters insurance. Lessor makes no representation that LRR covers the Lessee's additional living expenses or liability arising out of bodily injury or property damage to any third party. If Lessee requires any of these coverages, then Lessee should contact an insurance agent or insurance company of Lessee's choice.
3. It is recommended, but not required, that Lessee have "Renters Insurance" from a source of Lessee's choosing. Landlord shall not be responsible for damage to Tenant's personal property by theft, fire, water, sewer backup, mechanical failure, weather, acts of God, or other casualty loss, except when caused by the negligent acts or omissions of the Landlord.
4. Coverage under the LRR policy may be more expensive than the cost of Required Insurance obtainable by Lessee elsewhere. At any time, Lessee may contact an agent of their choice for insurance options to satisfy the Required Insurance under this Lease Agreement.
5. Licensed insurance agents may receive a commission on the LRR policy.
6. The total cost to the Lessee for the LRR coverage shall be nine dollars and fifty cents ($9.50) per month.

Scheduling under the LRR policy is not mandatory and Lessee may purchase Required Insurance from an insurance agent or insurance company of Lessee's choice at any time and coverage under the LRR policy will be terminated by the Lessor.

3. May not be connected to our telecommunications systems.
4. May not be connected to our electrical system except by plugging into a 110-volt duplex receptacle. If the satellite dish or antenna is placed in a permitted outside area; it must be safely secured by one of three methods, (1) securely attaching it to a portable heavy object such as a small slab of concrete, (2) clamping it to a part of a building's exterior that lies within your leased premises (such as a balcony or patio railing) or, (3) any other method approved by us. No other methods are allowed. We may require reasonable screening of the satellite dish or antenna by plants, etc. so long as it does not impair reception.

Signal transmission from exterior dish or antenna to interior of dwelling. Under the FCC order, you may not damage or alter the leased premises and may not drill holes through outside walls, doorjambs, windowsills, etc. If your satellite dish or antenna is located outside your dwelling, the signals received by it may be transmitted to the interior of your dwelling only by the following methods, (1) running a flat cable under the door jamb or window sill in a manner that does not physically alter the premises and does not interfere with proper operation of the door or window, (2) running a traditional or flat cable through a pre-existing hole in the wall (that will not need to be enlarged to accommodate the cable), (3) connecting cables through a window pane similar to how an external car antenna for a cellular phone can

1. ASPCA DEFINITION OF DANGEROUS DOG

1.1 WHAT ARE DANGEROUS DOG/RECKLESS OWNER LAWS?

“Dangerous dog laws” address the problems of:

1. dogs whose behavior poses a threat to public safety, and
2. the reckless dog owners whose actions often give rise to this behavior.

These laws may be passed on the state or local (municipal/county) level.

The ASPCA views breed-neutral dangerous dog/reckless owner laws as the smart alternative to breed-specific legislation—also known as BSL—in which certain breeds of dog are highly regulated or even banned completely in the hope of reducing dog attacks.

The ASPCA believes that dangerous dog laws should target only those dogs who truly pose unjustified risks to people or other animals. They should also acknowledge that there are situations where aggressive behavior is justified, such as when a dog is protecting herself, her guardian, her puppies or her home, or where the dog has reason to fear a person or animal.

The best, most effective breed-neutral dangerous dog laws include the following elements:

Spay/neuter programs

License law enforcement

At-large/leash laws

Anti-tethering measures

Anti-cruelty and animal fighting law enforcement

Progressive/tiered levels of violations & enforcement of laws

Responsible ownership programs & dog bite prevention training

Owners held civilly/criminally liable

Mandatory microchipping

Prohibit known reckless owners from having dogs

1.2 WHAT MAKES A DOG “DANGEROUS”?

The broad definition of a dangerous dog is one who inflicts unjustified, serious injury—or poses an imminent threat of unjustified, serious aggression—toward people or other animals. However, “dangerous” is defined differently by different jurisdictions. It is up to the court to decide whether a particular dog satisfies its jurisdiction’s definition.

Terms used to define other symptoms or levels of canine aggression include “potentially dangerous” and “vicious.” (These are discussed in more detail in “Do Breed-Neutral Dangerous Dog Laws Label Dogs for Life?”)

1.3 WHY ARE BREED-NEUTRAL DANGEROUS DOG LAWS NECESSARY?

Good, breed-neutral dangerous dog laws are necessary to keep communities safe. It is important, however, that such laws address the behavior of owner and dog and also uphold the constitutional rights—including the right to due process—of individuals and their pets.

In addition to the impact of breed-specific legislation on a personal level—the forced separation of responsible dog owners from well-behaved companion animals who happened to be classified as the “wrong breed”—BSL fails to acknowledge that any dog can bite, and that the breeds with “bad reputations” change over time. Individuals who want to possess aggressive dogs will always find a way to do so—ban or regulate one breed, and another will rise in popularity to take its place. Today, American pit bull terriers and similar-looking breeds are most often targeted, but not long ago, Dobermans, Rottweilers, German shepherds and even bloodhounds were particularly feared. Unlike breed-discriminatory legislation, however, breed-neutral dangerous dog laws will never fall behind the arc of a popularity trend because they address individual dogs and their owners.

1.4 DO BREED-NEUTRAL DANGEROUS DOG LAWS LABEL DOGS FOR LIFE?

Good, breed-neutral dangerous dog laws permit dogs deemed to be dangerous—or who have otherwise obtained a “record” under these laws—to be declassified after a period of compliance.

In jurisdictions with such laws, incidents of aggression are generally ranked on a staggered scale according to severity. This allows dogs who have committed relatively minor infractions to have second and third chances to have their behavior and/or living circumstances corrected before authorities must take more serious measures to ensure public safety. The terminology used by such laws is often “potentially dangerous,” “dangerous” and “vicious.” Running at large with a pack of dogs may be included in the definition of a “potentially dangerous” dog. The “vicious” classification should be assigned only where a dog has seriously injured or killed a human being. In such a case, euthanasia may be appropriate.

Just like a human who has been convicted of a crime, a dog designated “potentially dangerous,” “dangerous” or “vicious” will have a record in the jurisdiction where the owner’s failure to act responsibly, or the canine aggression, occurred. After a predetermined length of time with no further incidents and a sustained record of compliance with any orders, the “potentially dangerous” or “dangerous” designation should be removed.

1.5 DO BREED-NEUTRAL DANGEROUS DOG LAWS LABEL DOGS FOR LIFE

What are high risk breeds? While all dogs can bite there are a few dogs that carry a little more clout because of their size and past history of the breed and the percentage of those that have been involved in serious injuries on people and other dogs and even involving death. High risk breeds are usually classified in the insurance field. First let’s define and identify those specific breeds. I will start with Pit Bulls and Pit bull types.

Of all these breeds, some have a bite different from no other, some have great strength and a heritage of fighting. These include but not limited to:

- American Bully - derived from the American Pit Bull
- American Bull Dog - originally the English Bull Dog
- American Staffordshire Terrier
- Staffordshire Bull Terrier also known as the German Pit Bull
- Rottweiler
- Mastiff
- Argentino Dogo
- Presa Canario
- Bull Mastiff
- Cane Corso
- Dogue de Bordeaux
- Old English Mastiff
- Neapolitan Mastiff
- Japanese Tosa
- Other high risk include, but not limited to are-
- Akita
- Chow-Chow
- Doberman Pincher
- Dalmatian
- German Shepherd
- King Shepherd
- Malamute
- Rhodesian Ridge Back
- Saint Bernard
- Siberian Husky
- Tia Ridgeback
- Wolf and Wolf Mixes

While everyone of these breeds are dangerous it is necessary for these dog to only be handled and owned by a certain class of people and should never be a family pet with small children. Most attacks and deaths are by the family dog. Take heed in the fact.
